TESTIMONIAL

Family. That's what the Mottino YMCA means to us. Keyen started the YMCA as a 4-year-old terrified to go beyond the first step in the pool, but with the encouragement and patience of Michelle he became a little fish. Over the last five years Keyen has taken swim lessons, played soccer, and attended Day Camps. The YMCA has been a safe haven for Keyen who has endured bullying and exclusion at school. As an autistic boy with epilepsy, he constantly navigates a world not made for him, but the YMCA is made for him—it's made for everyone.

The Day Camp staff have been instrumental in Keyen's growth. They support him navigating social rules, gently push him beyond his comfort zone, and celebrate his achievements. When I pull out of the parking lot after dropping Keyen off at Camp, I know he's safe with caring and capable adults. That's a peace you can't put a price on.

STORY OF IMPACT

During one of the most challenging times for our family, the YMCA has been an incredible source of support—not only financially, but emotionally and mentally as well. Their assistance allowed us to stay focused on what truly mattered: healing, stability, and moving forward. The YMCA staff has helped us tremendously by making it possible for our daughter to continue receiving the education she needs, along with access to meaningful extracurricular activities. These activities have been invaluable in “getting her wiggles out.” We understand that any major change can affect a child and the YMCA has provided her with a safe, nurturing space to grow, express herself, and maintain a sense of normalcy.

In addition, the YMCA has given me the opportunity to be part of the gym community, allowing me to manage my own stress through participation in the health and wellness groups they offer. This support has been essential in helping me stay grounded and strong for my family. We are deeply grateful for the compassion, understanding, and commitment the YMCA has shown our family. Their support has made a meaningful difference during a very difficult chapter in our lives.
